"EXHIBIT A"

Parkview Apartments Regulations

The basis for a successful community and an enjoyable life-style

Apartment living is different from living in a "typical neighborhood". In this community, you share "common areas" and "facilities" with other residents. Because of this sharing, community regulations are not only worthwhile they are necessary for your comfort and enjoyment.

This is your personal copy of your community regulations. Please read it carefully because it is an integral part of your lease. When you sign your lease, you agree to abide by the regulations of the community. These are considered legally binding provisions of your lease agreement.

We have tried to remove as much "legalese" as possible from the regulations in an effort to make them easy to understand.
